The Hidden Flaws

- Gerrymandering: The manipulation of electoral district boundaries to give an unfair advantage to a particular political party or candidate.
- Corporate influence: The unchecked influence of corporations and wealthy donors on elections, effectively drowning out the voices of ordinary citizens.

- Foreign interference: The growing threat of foreign governments attempting to meddle in our elections, undermining the sovereignty of our democratic process.

The Alarming Threats

These hidden flaws escalate into alarming threats that jeopardize the very essence of our democracy:

- Reduced voter participation: Voter suppression tactics discourage citizens from exercising their fundamental right to vote, leading to a decline in civic engagement and the under-representation of marginalized voices.

- Political polarization: Corporate influence and foreign interference exacerbate political divisions, weakening our ability to address critical issues and compromising the health of our society.

The Urgent Need for Reform

1. Expanding voting access: Implement automatic voter registration, same-day registration, and early voting to make voting more convenient and accessible for all citizens.

2. Ending gerrymandering: Establish independent redistricting commissions to draw electoral boundaries fairly and free from partisan manipulation.
3. Reducing corporate influence: Implement campaign finance reforms to limit the influence of corporations and wealthy donors on elections.
